| The blueprint for how to be a good PMO Manager

Essentials for PMO Managers is a three-day course which explains what knowledge, skills, behaviours and competences are needed to undertake the role of a PMO Manager.

In volatile times, the well documented ability of a PMO to increase the success rates of projects, programmes and portfolios is even more important. Businesses now more than ever need to be able to react to a changing business environment.

Whether you work for an organisation wanting to ensure your PMO Managers have the capability to set up and run this office effectively, or are an individual looking to advance your career, this course offers a comprehensive blueprint for best practice in this role.

To ensure learners get the most out of this course, practitioner level knowledge of projects, programmes or portfolios is a prerequisite – any formally recognised Project Management certification or the appropriate level of practical experience is accepted.

Essentials for PMO Managers
